'Back to Farms or Dictator,' Ford Warns

the price of wheat. He said wheat is the only worthwhile standard of wealth of the country and balance of money. He said over a period of years—nearly 40 years—wheat had averaged 60 cents a bushel, although the price at the present time is $1.08.

Gold, said Ford, is only a standard but you cannot use it in making automobiles.

The motor magnate thought there should be a curtailment in the production of wheat to maintain the national standard.

WARNS OF DICTATOR

Returning to the farm again, Ford said:

"Every foot of tillable land in the United States ought to be under cultivation, else we will get a dictator."

"The earth doesn't need us. We need the earth. There is land all over the United States just waiting for work."

"Of course, there have been always wasted interests, against the much land cultivation. No matter how much food there is, the time is coming when it will be handled and prepared so effectively that it will require but little heat for the housewife to put it on the table."

He was asked in comment on the unemployment situation. He answered by telling a story.

"Several years ago I visited a prison in Massachusetts. On my way out I stopped to talk with the warden, whose name was Judge. But he wasn't a judge. I asked him why there were so many young men in there. He replied, 'They never got the habit of work.'"

'GET WORK HABIT'

"All that is necessary to say to the young man is to get into the habit of work. We already had the habit of work."

On the question of international peace, Ford said:

"Peace will come when we are ready for it."

Again discussing the automobile industry, Ford pointed out improvements to come in the automobile and everything "on our lives as well."

He plans to suit action to his words on farming, he said, and will put under cultivation "every inch" of the 500 available tillable land acres at Wayside Inn.

When he said he would endeavor to bring under cultivation additional acres not now suited for farming here, he added it would be more or less of a farm demonstration. He said he has another farm in Michigan and several in Michigan all of which will be "farmed to the limit."

Ford remarked that almost anything can be grown in New England and that the way, which has found so many uses in the automobile and other industries, is being raised at Wayside Inn and at his farm in Michigan.

In conclusion, Ford said he received a telegram from President Roosevelt last night, confirming Ford's appointment with the President at the White House on April 22. He had the telegram in his pocket but refused to make it public.

First put in a heavy forenoon going over his Wayside Inn property. He visited all the farm projects, including his old grist mill, pointing out photographs on the bridge above the waterwheel.

The warm weather brought out swarms of small black flies, but the motor magnate brushed them off with a smile.

Ford said he was returning to Detroit tomorrow morning and would go from Michigan to Washington.

Mrs. Ford is with her husband on his visit to New England. They planned to visit Concord and Lexington, ground where the Minute Men trod.

Late this afternoon Mrs. Ford began to offices of the National Farm and Garden Association. She is a former national president and attended the opening of the 20th annual convention of the association in Boston yesterday.

Mrs. Ford gave what she considered her secret of happy married life.

"Both husband and wife should keep busy and each try to see the other's side of every problem," she said.

She and Ford have been married 26 years.

Asked her opinion on careers for women, she said:

"I really cannot say. I never had a career and I have been very happy."

This pose of Henry Ford was snapped by news photographers today as he walked over the bridge above the waterwheel of his old grist mill at Wayside Inn, Sudbury. He had just concluded an interview in which he warned that a dictatorship may result in America if there is not a back-to-the-farm movement.

Connally Flays Bridges on TVA

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Tom Connally (D., Tex.) delivered today a scathing attack on Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) for charging the administration had "drastically" refused to support him as a member of the TVA investigation.

Before crowded galleries, the Texas senator said the New Hampshire senator had "seen fit" to bar him from the Senate contingent of the special committee for "political reasons."

Connally recalled Bridges made an address several months ago entitled "Has the TVA Betrayed its Trust?"

"This was his text," Connally stressed. "That carried at least as implied charge that the TVA has betrayed its trust."

Among presents she opened first was one from Uncle David—the Duke of Windsor—sent from France. What it was, no one outside the royal circle knew.

10 Million Hapsburg Property Is Seized

BERLIN, April 21 (UPI)—The newspaper Deutsche Morgenpost reported today that Austrian property of the Hapsburg family valued at $10,000,000 has been seized by governmental decree. This was done, said the paper, "some weeks ago as a result of the foolish and irresponsible interview given by Archduke Otto (Hapsburg) son-in-law to the throne of Austria to the semi-official newspaper Post Pariser March 16."

G. O. P. Launches Fight On Deal's Spending Plan

chief executive proposes to pump the primaries.

Instead of the President's proposal, Taber suggested a six-point program including:

1. Amendment of the Wagner Labor Relations Act to "promote harmony instead of discord between employ groups and employers."

2. Passage of the Senate-approved tax bill.

3. Repeal of the dangerous "greenback" law, which provides for inflation.

4. An attempt to recover the export market instead of trying to curtail production.

5. Efforts to relieve localities, require them to contribute at least 25 per cent of the cost, and "get rid" of WPA, PWA, housing authority, farm security administration, and all the other racks.

6. Appropriate only what is needed "without fanfare."

Earlier, WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins delivered a sharp rebuff to the GOP proposal to decentralize relief. Hopkins was determined to have the Appropriations committee that to turn relief back to the States would mean "starvation and control."

The New Deal would vigorously resist such a move.

Taber's speech was a blanketed indictment of the entire New Deal and its five-year history.

He charged that the $100,000,000 PWA grant and loan program is a "take" that cannot put people to work until nine or 10 months after it has gone into effect.

He declared the program has been included to win the support of Congress to the "suckering program."

Taber based his assertion that an hour of greenback is in the effort on reports of Treasury advertising for 126 tons of paper for printing currency during the first year beginning July 1.

FORCAST INFLATION

"This will wipe out the entire circulation of $400,000,000 in Federal Reserve notes in circulation and unquestionably will result in inflation," he declared.

"That means destruction of the government's credit, a reduction in the price of government bonds, a lowering of purchasing power of the workingman, and the complete stagnation of industry."

He assailed the National Labor Relations Board for "spending its time stirring up and agitating labor trouble," and declared that without revision of the board to bring it to "sanity and common sense," it is "absolutely an opportunity for employers to provide available and adequate employment for our people."

The Housing Authority also drew Taber's fire. He said that although it had been in existence for more than seven months and has had $100,000,000 available since last September, "it has not to commence actual construction of a single project."

"We have found from sad experience in the last five years that the social security of our people—except New Deal phylacteries—has not been promoted by spending $100,000,000 on bondholders, relief programs and similar activities," Taber said.

PLEAS FOR INDUSTRY

"Now we know that when we are all through we are just that much worse off."

"Let us turn away from the path of proven failure and attempt to solve our problems by giving industry an opportunity to put its people to work by promoting, rather than curtailing, the opportunities for employment of our people in private enterprise."

Meanwhile, the administration's proposal to take SPC loans available to private utilities evoked a sharp attack from a Democratic member of the House Representatives in a speech against the administration and its power policies.

John L. Lewis, who had been demanding a $250,000,000 relief program, threw the support of his Building CIO to the administration's $4,000,000,000 loan-and-spend program.

"Kindly be advised that Jack Coogan Productions is a corporation and so does the merchants at Los Angeles believe that Jack Coogan is a member of said corporation and extend credit without first checking his financial responsibility."

The letter was signed "A. L. Bernstein."

MEMORY REFRESHED

Meanwhile, Mrs. Coogan Bernstein received a two-day continuance in superior court in the hearing to dismiss temporary receivership of Jackie Coogan Productions, Inc., ordered when Coogan's original suit was filed.

When Rhy indicated he proposed to carry out the order, Coogan hurried to his attorneys and asked them to intercede.

"The kids" came to the rescue when he learned his mother and Bernstein were to be ordered to vacate the mansion, as well as to give up their three expensive automobiles.

An preliminary receiver for the estate, Attorney John Rhy, is empowered to seize all furniture and furnishings in the home as well as all personal effects of the Bernsteins.

When Rhy indicated he proposed to carry out the order, Coogan hurried to his attorneys and asked them to intercede.

A stipulation was effected whereby the Bernsteins will be permitted to remain in possession of the home, its furnishings and the automobiles.

LaFollette Hits Roosevelt for New Slump

Former Deal Backer Declares Leader 'Backed Down'

MADISON, Wis., April 21.—Gov. erior Philip F. LaFollette, who disowned last night he had split with President Roosevelt over recovery policies, promised today to offer his own plans for mastering the business slump.

He announced he would discuss recovery tonight in a third of a series of four radio addresses, intimating he had in mind a self-liquidating welfare program of the kind he submitted in 1933 to the Wisconsin Legislature, which rejected it.

Heretofore the governor, tilting head of Wisconsin's Progressive party, and his brother, Senator Robert M. LaFollette, had been avowed supporters of the President.

ADMINISTRATION HIDE
Governor LaFollette declared last night the national administration could have prevented what "many people call this recession."

He said he urged upon the national administration, immediately after the 1933 election and repeatedly during 1937, "the need for a sound, comprehensive and carefully worked out program. But they did the opposite. They discharged people by the thousands."

"The administration, he continued, 'believed that the war on the depression had been won.' And disbanded its forces."

Raising the question of state versus national governmental functions, Gov. LaFollette said the power over the economic situation is properly vested in the national government, under ordinary circumstances.

DEAL "BACKED DOWN"
It might better be placed, however, in the hands of state governments to administer the current "recession" quickly and with more certainty, he said.

He charged the 100-million-dollar federal deficit, which he said was defeated by the Wisconsin Senate in 1933 because many of the members relied on the federal government to end economic straits.

Brother Agrees With Criticism
WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Senator Robert M. LaFollette (D-Wisconsin) endorsed today an address by his brother, Governor Philip LaFollette, criticizing administrative recovery policies.

He added that while he would support Roosevelt's projected program designed to promote recovery, it is unfortunate that it has been delayed so long.

Man, 37, Loves Bride, Aged 12

Child's Wedding In Delaware Revealed

LEWIS, Del., April 21.—Mrs. Almina Wainwright, 37-year-old bride, declared today that she loves her husband, Samuel, 12, and that they intend to continue their married life.

The marriage of the pair on April 13 was revealed by school authorities (including Lincoln's) two weeks ago from the fifth grade of the Robinson State School.

"I can't cook but I'm willing to learn," the slim, dark haired girl said.

"The husband is a fisherman and he will be perfectly happy if he can split off his line."

Gov. Moore Flays Relief 'Racket'

TRENTON, N. J., April 21 (AP)—Terming relief "a grand racket for welfare workers," Governor A. Harry Moore revealed a plan to divide relief recipients into two classes—employable and non-employable.

Those regarded as employable will be taken from relief rolls any time a job is found for them which they refuse to accept.

Son James Pledges Deal To Make Things Smooth

MIDDLETOWN, O., April 21 (INS)—James Roosevelt, eldest son of and secretary to the President, pledged the full weight of the New Deal in a battle "to make the capitalist system of the richest country in the world run smoothly."

Speaking at a Jackson Day dinner here, young Roosevelt drew a parallel between problems confronting his father and those which "Old Hickory" met the problem of his day, directly and boldly, just as he will the present administration.

"The same person who is objecting to a spending program now," he declared, "were saying last year that business could go ahead under its own steam. The majority of American people seemed to be in favor of tapering off, so the experiment was tried. "The administration, he believes this experiment of tapering off has gone far enough. We have learned that when we go ahead with public works and work relief, your average income goes up, and we come closer each year to balancing the budget. When we taper off, your income goes down and we go farther away from a balanced budget."

"Our experience is this: When the government spends more money, you all have more money and your taxes are easier to pay. When the government spends less money you have a lot less money and the taxes are more than you can carry. It is a lot easier to pay $37 out of $50 than to pay $32 out of $20."

Douglas Boomed For U. S. President

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 21 (AP)—The Burlington Daily News today suggested that Lewis W. Douglas, formerly director of the budget, be nominated for President of the United States on a fusion ticket. Dr. Douglas now is a chancellor of McGill University, Montreal.

The News is owned by Colonel H. Nelson Jackson, banker, prominent in the American Legion and once a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Atlantic Coast May See Fleet in 1939

HONOLULU, April 21 (INS)—The U. S. fleet may hold its 1939 maneuvers in Atlantic waters, says the "purple" forces prepared to sail for California today. Noted Irishman Assails Isms At Harvard

Playwright Carroll Asserts Europe Is Disintegrating

By LEO GAFFNEY

A colorless little Irishman, as much at odds with his surroundings as the workmen hands he treated on the delicate India print cloth on the speaker's table before him, told a small sprinkling of incredulous Harvardians a thing or two about Communism, Nazism and the drama at the Harvard Dramatic Club, Cambridge.

He was Paul Vincent Carroll, but a few months ago an obscure school teacher in Scotland, now suddenly shot into fame by virtue of his play "Shadow and Substance," just awarded the annual prize of the New York Drama Critics' Circle for the best new foreign play to appear this year on Broadway.

And not only is Carroll the recipient of such honors, he is also regarded as the likeliest dramatist to emerge from Europe in the last ten years, fit to add his name to the imposing scroll containing his fellow Celtic-all sitting on top of the world—Synge, Shaw, O'Neill, O'Casey.

The dramatist said Mr. Carroll in his tranquil clear voice—it is full of the small sibilant sounds peculiar to Irishmen from the back country—the dramatist, the real dramatist, is not concerned with class or party.

As an artist he is neither Left Wing nor Right Wing nor Communist, Nazi, Catholic, Protestant Jew, nor even New Deal. In private life Mr. Carroll is a practical and practicing Roman Catholic.

He insists on it. His political beliefs are not revealed.

The real dramatist—as distinguished from the mere playwright—"the fellow who only follows a fashion"—must see and accept life whole, "neither denying nor rejecting any part of it, however unpleasant, however insupportable."

It is the function of the dramatist to observe life, then interpret it to the lonely and terrified creature who live it—which would be all of us.

"Europe is disintegrating," said Carroll, as calmly as if he were quoting the price of peanuts, "and it looks to America, the New World, to carry the torch of culture."

"To Europeans all Americans are crazy, because I never saw an American in Europe who wasn't crazy. It is up to you young writers to discover and interpret the native American to the rest of the world."

And although he didn't say so, Mr. Carroll seemed to infer that when this little job would be properly attended to the passing phenomena of Communism, Fascism et al would be resolved.

Mr. Carroll insisted that the heart of America, not yet discovered, can only be discovered in the drama, the distilled essence of life.

"America," he fairly whispered, "is not Broadway, and Broadway is not America."

"Write," he urged, "of the America of the small town, of the poor devil who never gets his name in the papers, who never gets free tickets to anything, who pays through the nose for everything."

Townsend Tells Roosevelt to 'Unite Forces'

Pension Leader Offers Government Plan at White House

WASHINGTON, April 21 (U.S.)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, elderly champion of the old age pension plan, who called at the White House today to thank President Roosevelt for pardoning him from a 30-day jail sentence, suggested to the chief executive that he should undertake to set up a coalition government.

Townsend, who was adjudged guilty of contempt of the House of Representatives for refusing to answer questions, spent nearly half an hour with the President, at which time he was on the engagement list for but five minutes.

BOOK ON SUBJECT

"Under his arm was a book entitled 'Coalition or Chaos'."

"I called this book to the President's attention," he said, "and suggested to him that he make every effort to set up a coalition government."

Townsend said Roosevelt replied he would like to see a coalition government, but thought one high-improbable.

The old age pension advocate insisted that the support of this plan is drawing from Republicans and Democrats alike demonstrates the possibility of a coalition.

REMEDY FOR AILS

A reporter pointed out that this was a coalition on one subject only and asked what basic policies would be the result.

"The things that are puzzling us now will cease to puzzle us," Townsend replied, "when our plan goes into effect. We propose that the government shall employ between eight and nine million people without cost to the government through a cross tax on business which would be distributed to the old people to be spent within 30 days of receipt of each payment."

Townsend said most of his time with the President was devoted to debating "the one thing that obsessed me all the time—old age pensions."

"We are not to get the vote," the doctor said, "and we are going to get them."

Townsend added that he had told the President he "appreciated" enjoying the sunshine and from all this morning, which would not have been possible had it not been for the courtesy in extending me a pardon."

Worcester Jury Gets Bribe Case

WORCESTER, April 21—A jury which heard a 45-minute charge by Judge William M. Burns today in Superior Court received the police conspiracy case against Alderman Joseph V. Laddner and Attorney Elias Burwick for deliberation.

The veteran Worcester police figures are charged with conspiracy to accept gratuities from six well-known policemen on the promise that they would be appointed to the force.

In his lengthy charge, Judge Burns informed the jurors that their findings must be the same for both men.

Arabs Kill 2 British Soldiers

HAIFA, Palestine, April 21 (AP)—A band of Arabs ambushed and killed two British soldiers today in the Jewish area. The soldiers had left their camp to get water.

"To Europeans all Americans are crazy, because I never saw an American in Europe who wasn't crazy. It is up to you young writers to discover and interpret the native American to the rest of the world."

And although he didn't say so, Mr. Carroll seemed to infer that when this little job would be properly attended to the passing phenomena of Communism, Fascism et al would be resolved.

Japs Open Drive To Aid Besieged Garrison

Chinese Taks Up New Defenses as Foes Occupy Lini

SHANGHAI, April 21 (AP)—After 24 hours of attacking, the fighting Japs reinforced Shantung army completely occupied Lini today.

The Chinese high command announced the withdrawal of their forces from the battered walled town, a key point in their river entrenchments, through which Japs in a new offensive are attempting to drive southward, leading to the relief of a besieged garrison at Wihien, 60 miles away.

The Chinese took up new defense positions two miles south. Although Japanese claimed domination of Lini 24 hours earlier, Chinese insisted until late today they had secured the breach in the wall, and that their flag still was flying over the town.

SHOW OBJECTIVE

Ninety miles southwest of Lini is Sachow. Lanchow railway junction and ultimate objective of the Japanese offensive to cut the corridor now separating Japanese conquests in North China and in the Shanghai-Nanking area.

Forty-seven miles southwest of the "Yellow River" is the recent defeat of the Japanese.

Chinese battalions, including Manchewang, on the Grand Canal, and Tientsin-Pukow Railway, due to 22 miles north of Sachow.

SORTIE FAILS

A Japanese garrison, surrounded and bottled at Tientsin, made a desperate effort to break through the Japanese lines in an effort to cut the corridor, but was forced to withdraw within the walls.

Chinese claimed the Japanese for the fourth time of Pinglin in the Province of Shantung, west of the Yellow River. The victory was after a two-day battle in which Japanese were reported to have lost 300 dead.

More Jap Troops Quit Tokyo for China

TOKYO, April 21 (AP)—Large numbers of new troops are being sent to China, while recent Japanese military reverses have created high political tension at home.

There are no figures, but the troop movement is the first on a large scale in many months.

Streets are filled with deserting soldiers bidding farewell to their families, and the scene is comparable to those of last September, when Japan entered the conflict in earnest.

The political crisis which has arisen from the China campaign may come to a head when Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye reports to the Emperor tomorrow.

Soviet Revolt Plot Revealed

LONDON, April 21 (INS)—A secret, anti-Russia, radio station to Soviet Russia has broadcast a call to the Red Army to revolt and to kill Josef Stalin, the Daily London Express reported today from Warsaw.

The report said the broadcast urged the soldiers to stage the proposed uprising and assassinate Stalin during the annual military parade on May day.

At the same time a Russian dispatch from Riga, Latvia, said Soviet Defense Commissar Kliment E. Voroshilov is heading deliberations of the Russian military council for confederating war on the Soviet waters frontier against the line of defense.

Sawyer Demands Checks Be Shown in Stone Case

He Told His Side of Long Case

JUDGE ARTHUR P. STONE

The Home mail carriers today demanded a demand by Representative Roland Sawyer today that Judge Arthur P. Stone be required to produce canceled checks showing the money he had turned over to the wife of the late Howard Long, during the time the latter was a Bridgeview State Prison inmate.

The demand was made at a hearing before Judge Stone, who presided at the time of Long's release from the institution. The judge was asked to produce the canceled checks of the state left by Long's mother.

Judge Stone had just testified to giving Mrs. With Long $2000 during her husband's two-year confinement at Bridgeview. When Representative Sawyer interrupted the proceedings.

"If I show you an affidavit from Mr. Long that he never received more than $100 would you say she was not telling the truth?" Sawyer asked.

"I would," Judge Stone answered.

Sawyer then demanded that proof of payment be shown by the state, which is considering an order seeking the return of the money.

In his testimony Judge Stone said that at the time of Long's release, he had announced in Bridgeview district court that he would not be able to supervise the parole.

He said he had warned the parole board would have to do that. Judge Stone said he was present at the hearing on Long's release, and he said he was on the committee that Judge Stone had announced in the Long case as "a father would be a son."

Fall River Bishop Raps Clergy's Franco Attack

FALL RIVER, April 21—Bishop James E. Cassidy of the Roman Catholic Fall River diocese today bitterly assailed 61 non-Catholic clergymen who had signed a statement in condemnation of Spanish insurgents' bombing of Barcelona.

Striking back at opponents of Catholic moral support of the General Franco regime in Spain and valid condemnation of the church's attitude in the war crisis, Bishop Cassidy scored the non-Catholic clergy for their apathy.

Speaking at the 20th anniversary banquet of Assumption Circle Daughters of Isabella, Bishop Cassidy declared that 20 years ago he had predicted future strife between "Christ and anti-Christ."

"I wish to take a moment," he said, "to call to your attention the recent approval of 61 non-Catholic bishops of America for the Catholics to voice condemnation of General Francisco Franco."

"We heard nothing from them when Mexico was the scene of wholesale slaughter of Catholic priests and nuns, and pillage of Catholic churches. But now the voice of the church would be raised in defense of anti-God."

"Because my suspicion," he said, "is that the non-Catholic clergy are in the city of Barcelona, France named and killed civilians and non-combatants. Even the voices of these who should have been raised in defense of Communism and against the forces of Catholicism. You will be on your guard against storm clouds which are gathering."

Von Papen Fate Hidden by Nazis

LONDON, April 21 (INS)—The London News-Chronicle said today that London friends of Baron Franz Von Papen, former German ambassador to Austria and a one-time chancellor of Germany, were "badly worried" regarding his fate.

The paper said Von Papen's whereabouts were being kept secret by the Nazis, who were "deliberately" concealing his fate.

"It is understood on good authority," the paper said, "that only a month ago was admitted to membership in the Nazi party as a special honor—was in disguise."

The News-Chronicle said that newspapers in Vienna have been forbidden to mention the name of the noted statesman.

Hitler, J. S. Bund Demands Probe of Dickstein

Links Congressman to Riot Where Nazis Beat 7 in Legion Caps

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—A congressional investigation of the activities of Rep. Samuel Dickstein (D-N.Y.) was asked by the German American Bund today, following a riot at a Bund rally celebrating Adolf Hitler's 48th birthday.

Seven men, members of a group wearing American Legion caps who attended the meeting were beaten so severely by uniformed storm troopers that they required hospital treatment. Four persons were arrested.

A squad of 75 policemen fought to break up the rioting crowd, which was estimated to be 1000 strong.

The rally held in a casino in New York City, was attended by many members of the German American Bund and sympathizers.

James W. Hall, national Bund secretary, in a telegram to Rep. Dickstein, a critic of the Bund, said that the Bund members would be bloodied if the meeting were held.

"We respectfully emphasize," the telegram said, "that we are not interested in any connection of Representative Dickstein with the Bund members who attempted to cause a riot at this meeting and further request public opinion of Representative Dickstein and his remarks inciting to riot he may have made."

2000 U. S. Planes Urged for Britain

NEW DEER, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, April 21 (AP)—Robert Boothby, conservative member of Parliament, today urged Britain to place orders for 2000 United States and Canadian planes to balance rapid expansion of the German air force.

A British mission left yesterday for the United States, chiefly concerned with the possibility of buying long-range bombing planes to bolster the lagging British defense program.

Delegates divided their interest today between the President's offer of 1000 bombers and the offer of 2000 fighters, which will elevate Mrs. Henry M. Robert, Jr. of Annapolis, Md., to the post of president-general.

MENTIONED ROOSEVELT

John Mathias, one of the injured veterans, said the riot began when he rose to interrupt a speaker, who had mentioned President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Henry H. Stimson in his address, delivered in German.

"I asked, 'Will there be any English spoken here?'" Mathias said, "and with that, a bunch of men in Nazi uniforms jumped up and began to punch me and trample on me."

French Cabinet In Dictator Grip

PARIS, April 21—The hand of dictatorship fell in a strange way today, startling to a politician inherent desire to say something anything.

"By decree, which is expected to be adopted May 1, cabinet ministers will be prohibited from making speeches until further notice. Neither may they take vacations. The purpose, apparently, is to make Premier Edouard Daladier temporarily the sole official spokesman for government policy and at the same time to keep all cabinet ministers bound to their posts until the emergency period expires."

Daladier's power to make decisions to create strength for France at home and abroad has, without the use of a single fiat, thus far accomplished its purpose.

Who Sent That Lion to Hitler?

Donor Gets His Name Secret

BURLING, April 21 (AP)—Someone forgot to put a tag on the lion that President Hitler got for his birthday, so he doesn't know whom to thank. The donor forgot to send a book on feeding.

The obvious deduction was that the present came from Field Marshal Goering, Nazi No. 2 man and a known lion fancier. But his adjutants and press attaches said so.

"At the Reich chancellery there were hurried sentences when the donor's name was requested. But nobody seemed to know who sent the lion."

The publisher also got enough hand-knit socks to fit out an army division. There were more than 10,000 pairs to be handed over to social welfare organizations.

Other gifts: A three-foot diamond cake, a model of the streamlined, four-engine "people's car" Hitler wants every German to possess and an ancient Arabian sword belt and a big silver casket from the emirs of Iraq and Bolivia.

Nazi Concessions Agreed by Czechs

LONDON, April 21 (INS)—The London Daily Herald, laborer newspaper, reported today that the Czechoslovakian government has decided upon the concessions it will offer Czechoslovakian German minority as a basis for settlement of their controversy.

It is unlikely, however, that the Nazi German Sudeten party will accept the offer, the paper said, but will continue to press its demand for autonomy.

Girl Will Unveil Franklin Statue

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP)—Philip C. Stuppi, president of the Franklin Institute, announced today that President Roosevelt would be unable to attend the dedication of the statue of Benjamin Franklin at the institute May 12.

Johna Johnston Castle, 36, of Villinridge, Del., a descendant of Franklin, will unveil the statue.

Roosevelt's Promised Address Stirs D. A. R.

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt's decision to greet the 4th congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution in person today stirred a ripple of excitement among the 4000 delegates and visitors.

Heretofore, Roosevelt has merely sent letters of greeting.

Announcement that he had decided to address the convention after declining an invitation to speak at the opening session, led some delegates to link his change of mind to the issue of older adresses which the daughters have heard.

One speaker declared the present economic system is in jeopardy. Another declared the country was in the midst of a bitter class struggle. Many have spoken on the dangers of dictatorship.

FAVOR NAVAL BILL

The D. A. R. resumed by its constitution from taking action on controversial political matters. The President's bill on broad grounds.

Approval of the administration's naval expansion bill was urged by Mrs. Vinton Earl Simon of Chicago, chairman of national defense.

Mrs. Simon also reported that many D. A. R. groups in the recent year voted government reorganization bill on broad grounds.

Delegates divided their interest today between the President's offer of 1000 bombers and the offer of 2000 fighters, which will elevate Mrs. Henry M. Robert, Jr. of Annapolis, Md., to the post of president-general.

2000 U. S. Planes Urged for Britain

NEW DEER, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, April 21 (AP)—Robert Boothby, conservative member of Parliament, today urged Britain to place orders for 2000 United States and Canadian planes to balance rapid expansion of the German air force.

A British mission left yesterday for the United States, chiefly concerned with the possibility of buying long-range bombing planes to bolster the lagging British defense program.

John Mathias, one of the injured veterans, said the riot began when he rose to interrupt a speaker, who had mentioned President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Henry H. Stimson in his address, delivered in German.

"I asked, 'Will there be any English spoken here?'" Mathias said, "and with that, a bunch of men in Nazi uniforms jumped up and began to punch me and trample on me."

French Cabinet In Dictator Grip

PARIS, April 21—The hand of dictatorship fell in a strange way today, startling to a politician inherent desire to say something anything.

"By decree, which is expected to be adopted May 1, cabinet ministers will be prohibited from making speeches until further notice. Neither may they take vacations. The purpose, apparently, is to make Premier Edouard Daladier temporarily the sole official spokesman for government policy and at the same time to keep all cabinet ministers bound to their posts until the emergency period expires."

Daladier's power to make decisions to create strength for France at home and abroad has, without the use of a single fiat, thus far accomplished its purpose.

Who Sent That Lion to Hitler?

Donor Gets His Name Secret

BURLING, April 21 (AP)—Someone forgot to put a tag on the lion that President Hitler got for his birthday, so he doesn't know whom to thank. The donor forgot to send a book on feeding.

The obvious deduction was that the present came from Field Marshal Goering, Nazi No. 2 man and a known lion fancier. But his adjutants and press attaches said so.

"At the Reich chancellery there were hurried sentences when the donor's name was requested. But nobody seemed to know who sent the lion."

The publisher also got enough hand-knit socks to fit out an army division. There were more than 10,000 pairs to be handed over to social welfare organizations.

Other gifts: A three-foot diamond cake, a model of the streamlined, four-engine "people's car" Hitler wants every German to possess and an ancient Arabian sword belt and a big silver casket from the emirs of Iraq and Bolivia.

Nazi Concessions Agreed by Czechs

LONDON, April 21 (INS)—The London Daily Herald, laborer newspaper, reported today that the Czechoslovakian government has decided upon the concessions it will offer Czechoslovakian German minority as a basis for settlement of their controversy.

It is unlikely, however, that the Nazi German Sudeten party will accept the offer, the paper said, but will continue to press its demand for autonomy.

Girl Will Unveil Franklin Statue

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP)—Philip C. Stuppi, president of the Franklin Institute, announced today that President Roosevelt would be unable to attend the dedication of the statue of Benjamin Franklin at the institute May 12.

Johna Johnston Castle, 36, of Villinridge, Del., a descendant of Franklin, will unveil the statue.

Harlemite Hunts 'Kidnaped' Wife

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—The Park avenue family of the former Sylvia Laurent, kept her secluded today as her Negro husband of less than two weeks, William Sam Hart Stewart, 31, sought to find her.

"The husband, a Harlem entrepreneur and animal trainer, followed her here by plane from Chicago, after swearing out kidnap warrants against three Chicago policemen and five "Joan Does" from New York."

The young woman, apparently ill, arrived, accompanied by her brother, Joseph A. Laurent, who said she would be taken to a sanatorium. She was lifted from the train into an ambulance.

Laurent said his sister, a former Smith College student, had been under care of psychiatrists since a nervous breakdown in 1936.

Detective Charles Hargrave of the Missing Persons Bureau, who said he found the girl in Chicago, admitted Stewart confessed to have his wife return here for treatment.

Stewart, who has well-tipped associates and a roster, got the girl in Greenwich Village, she came from a family of brokers and attorneys.

Shirley Dean Under Knife: Ear Ailment

MODERN COMMUNICATIONS link New England with the entire world

In 1801 Jonathan Grou, Jr., startled the town by announcing a "telegraph line" linking Martha's Vineyard and Boston. A series of sixteen hand-operated semaphores perched on hilltops over the intervening seventy miles wiggled the arrival of Boston-bound ships at the Vineyard. Heretofore nearly two days were required for the passage of news between the two points. Grou now reduced this to a breath-taking six minutes.

Now, forty-three radio broadcasting stations in New England keep their listeners informed hour by hour of important happenings throughout the world. Today the banking business is expedited by telephone, telegraph, transatlantic cable and radio. Through our own switchboard the average time to make a connection by radio telephone with our London office or our branch in Havana is 10 minutes. Fifteen minutes after we put in a call for our branch in Buenos Aires, almost 7,000 miles away, the party is on the line.

We commend the continuing advance in methods of communication which can mean so much in the development of neighborliness throughout the world.

Strikers Close 8 More Plants In Detroit

3700 Workers Return To Fisher Shops In Flint

DETROIT, April 21 (AP)—Strikes closed the Buick Aluminum & Brass Corporation's eight plants here today, bringing to 31 the number of industrial units in Detroit in which labor troubles have stopped production.

In Flint, 3700 employees of General Motors' Fisher Body plant No. 1 returned to work without incident, after a three-day shut-down resulting from a United Automobile Workers picketing campaign to collect union dues.

Fifteen hundred men employed on the Buick Motor Co. final assembly line were expected to resume work either today or tomorrow.

FIGHTS WAGE CUT

The UAW agreed Tuesday to withdraw its dues-collecting picket line at the Fisher plant when William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors, announced operations would not be resumed until the workers were disarmed. There were no pickets at the Fisher plant this morning.

The plants idle in Detroit, in addition to the Buick Aluminum units, were those of the American Brass Corp., closed since Tuesday because of a UAW demonstration against a 10 per cent wage cut; the Michigan Brass & Copper Co. and the Detroit Moulding Co. In the Michigan Steel Castings Co. plant, where pickets clashed with police yesterday, a skeleton crew remained overnight and no additional employees attempted to enter this morning. A 10 per cent wage cut precipitated that dispute.

GET CT. SUPPORT

The American Brass Co. dispute, which began Tuesday when employees pulled power switches to protest a wage reduction, involved the CIO-affiliated Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers Union. Employees of the same company at Waterbury, Ct., voted to support the 700 Detroit employees. The other industrial strikes in Detroit involve the UAW. The Waiters and Waitresses union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, threatened to call strikes in 20 independent hotels unless the management agreed to meet the union's demands. The Detroit Hotel Association.

Recovery Ideas Aired in Replies to Hearst Query

Many things can be done—and done now—by the President, according to a check of the depression and put the country once more on the road to recovery, according to readers of the Hearst newspapers.

Numerous suggestions are being received by these papers in response to their previously published invitation:

"This newspaper invites its readers to write to the editor their suggestions as to what the President should do to dislocate the fear that is paralyzing industry and progress and improving the welfare of the nation."

Suggestions submitted range from complete programs to single ideas. For example:

Francis Mayton, San Francisco, a letter to the San Francisco Examiner:

"I offer the following program in the interest of business recovery and national contentment:

"1—Constructive actions and sincere pronouncements in behalf of business on the part of your chief executive and his spokesmen.

"2—Repeal of destructive legislation.

"3—Reduction of governmental expenditures.

"4—Balancing of the budget.

"5—Abolish reciprocal trade treaties.

"6—Provide tariffs adequate to protect American farmers, laborers and the public against inferior foreign goods and cheap labor.

White House Hails Pescha Kagan Art

President, First Lady Lead Audience
In Appreciation of U. S. Girl

By GLENN DILLARD GUNN
Special to the Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, April 21—Official circles heard Pescha Kagan, American pianist, Monday night at the White House, where a distinguished audience was led in its appreciation of her art by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Kagan, protégée of Palestrina, and Beethoven, performed an artistic recital that flatters her fellow countryman. She believes that her talents have sufficient merit to prompt these great masters to teach her, she need only be heard to persuade the general public to share their enthusiasm.

She also came unheralded to the White House to play Debussy's "Jardins Boulogne." Suchmann's version of a dance by Messiaen, and the 18 minor scherzos of Chopin. The reaction of her distinguished audience was enthusiastic, according to the report of music lovers present.

Mrs. Kagan plays brilliantly, unemotionally, with a modern approach to the instrument but also with the restraint of good taste to modify her originality.

There is real address in her art, not sensational, though delicately imaginative. She meets the subtle test of Chopin with poetic feeling as well as with ample technical resources. Her playing is the accurate application of Debussy.

This gifted daughter of Pennsylvania has not availed herself of the extravagant publicity now deemed necessary to the promotion of the artist. She does not want it, relying entirely upon the reaction of her listeners and the unbiased judgment of the critic.

ON THE GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY (II)
A Comment of Franklin D. Roosevelt from His Forthcoming Books

(Editor's Note:—Yesterday the President's notes told of the beginning of the Good Neighbor policy, and of the events in Cuba leading up to the flight of President Machado in August, 1933.

The following account from the President's books continues the story of his administration's acts in Latin-American affairs.

After the flight of General Machado, a provisional government in Cuba was established, headed by Dr. Carlos Manuel de Céspedes. This provisional government was in turn overthrown on September 5, 1933.

Thereupon the military forces in Cuba assisted in the installation of a new civil government composed of a committee of five civilians, representative to the authorities of the army, to the students of the University of Havana and to a small group of exiles who had entered governmental affairs.

The new regime was not successful in obtaining any support from other bodies of public opinion in Cuba. The provisional system was therefore modified, and the presidential system was again introduced. General Ramón Grau Saverio, one of the committee of five, was selected as Provisional President.

This regime also endeavored to obtain the support of popular groups.

(Editor's Note:—A White House statement on November 9, 1935, announced completion of plans for a conference in Montevideo on December 3. The President, it said, considered the meeting "of such importance" that he had directed Secretary of State Cordell Hull to attend in person.

This conference was the seventh International Conference of American States. This was the first time, however, that the Secretary of State of the United States was present as a delegate. Not only did Secretary Hull attend this conference, but on his trip to and from Montevideo, he took occasion to visit Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, and Panama.

This conference provided an excellent vehicle, not only for the proper application of the new good neighbor policy of the United States, but also to induce the other nations of Central and South America to adopt and follow a similar policy.

I have already spoken of the attitude of mutual respect and understanding among the twelve nations in America before March 4, 1933. The first objective of our delegates at this conference was to lay down what was left by the time of the war of mutual respect and understanding among the twelve nations in America before March 4, 1933.

(Editor's Note:—It was not, the statement said, "that no official action of the United States should at any time operate as an obstacle to the free and untrammelled determination by the Cuban people of their own destiny."

On January 12, 1934, Colonel Carlos Menéndez was named as Provisional President of Cuba and was elected to the office on January 20, 1934.

The Government of Carlos Menéndez was supported by all the recognized political parties in Cuba and there were immediate evidences of overwhelming popular approval. Because of these facts and because of the apparent ability of his Government to maintain public order the United States extended recognition to the Government of Cuba on January 20, 1934.

Platt Amendment
Death Pleases Cuba

(Editor's Note:—A new treaty with Cuba was ratified by the U. S. Senate on June 8, 1934.)

This treaty abrogated the Platt Amendment of 1902, which contained the so-called Platt Amendment. Under the latter, Cuba had agreed in connection with United States intervention in the Spanish-American war to a certain specified circumstances.

The new treaty provided that the United States should not make treaties with foreign powers which tended to impair its independence, and not to contract any public debt beyond its ability to service from ordinary revenues.

The treaty of 1934 in the light of the situation existing at the time, was an achievement, and it was determined upon its replacement by a modern instrument responsive to changed conditions.

The treaty of 1934, which annulled the Platt Amendment, was a far more important step in the relations with Cuba than the Platt Amendment of 1902.

This action on our part in connection with the Platt Amendment and the new treaty with Cuba, not only strengthened the friendship between Cuba and the United States, but very materially increased the good will and confidence with which we are regarded by all the other American Republics.

It was also a step toward the settlement of the outstanding achievements at Montevideo can be summarized as follows:

(1) creation of a new spirit of friendship and confidence among the Republics of America; (2) the beginning of a strong liberal trade policy; (3) steps toward the establishment of peace machinery; (4) steps in the movement of inter-American communication and transportation; (5) collective adoption of the principle of non-intervention.

On the whole it was responsible for improving and promoting a new era of permanent friendship, understanding, and economic and neighborly cooperation which now exists throughout the western hemisphere.

Henry P. Homans, 44, of Harvard street, a sufferer from diabetes, had been the highest prize today. The police nurse who turned him over to the police, was arrested on a larceny charge. Robert Talks of Bout with Casey

Bobby Doerr's Bat
New Sox Threat

By JACK CONWAY

YVON ROBERT, the brilliant young Frenchman whom I still consider the heavyweight champion of the world, looked more dashing and determined than ever when he dropped in to see me upon his arrival in Boston from Montreal.

"I want to thank you," said Robert with a tone of earnestness in his voice, "for having helped me in my battle to force the American Wrestling Association to give me a bout with Steve Casey. You have maintained I am still world's champion, and I will not let you down when I clash with the Irishman at the Garden a week from tomorrow night."

I looked into Robert's eyes, and they flashed fire. Yvon's face is a bit drawn, and he looks as if he has been through an intensive training period. Robert read my thoughts.

"I have been training for three weeks at my camp outside of Montreal," went on the Frenchman. "I knew that Casey would eventually be forced by public opinion to meet me, and I wished to be in the best possible condition when the time for the bout should arrive."

"I have come to Boston early so that I can complete the final stages of my training at easy stages."

I asked Robert if he had any special plan of battle or his meeting with Casey.

"Frankly no," he replied. "I shall adapt myself to the style adopted by Casey. I have always felt it was unwise for an athlete to get a fixed style of campaign too deeply rooted in his mind. In such an event, something often happens to throw him off style, and he is not able to adjust himself to the new condition."

"I know I am much faster than Casey, and also apply holds with much more rapidity than does the Irishman. These assets will, of course, help me."

"I won the championship by defeating Dan O'Mahony, an Irishman, and shall retain it by pinning another Irishman, Steve Casey."

I told Robert I admired his spirit in refusing to recognize the only ruling of the American Wrestling Association stripping him of his championship.

"Why not?" demanded Robert. "There are certainly enough dictators in the world today without me recognizing the autocratic ruling of the American Wrestling Association. I have always believed that titles are won and lost in the ring. It takes an official decision of a referee to deprive a champion of his laurels. On that basis, I am still heavyweight wrestling champion of the world."

Robert will train at Kelley & Hayes' Gym on Hanover street.

"Harry Kelley has one of the finest gymnastiums in the East," said Robert, "and I shall have the advantage of having every possible training facility."

The Frenchman told me he has instructed Eddie Quinn, his manager, to secure the best possible sparring partners.

"I want big, strong, tough fellows like Casey," said Robert. "Every time I slam one of them to the canvas I shall feel as if I am pinning the Irishman."

Bobby Doerr's Batting Pouch

THE surprising feat, hitting the ball four times when a ball was dropped, has been very pleasing to Joe Cronin who has always been a fan of the Red Sox.

Doerr tried the ball over the head of the first baseman, and the ball was in the air for a moment before it was caught by the first baseman.

Havana, California Horses Stabled at Suffolk Downs

800 Steeds Already
At Track—Opening
Day Next Week

By BILL SMITH

With the cry "They're off" only a few days away, Suffolk Downs is rapidly approaching readiness. Workmen are putting the finishing touches on the spacious East Boston oval, and the race track will be in prime shape for the opening day crowd.

More than 800 horses are now quartered on the grounds, and others are arriving daily. From Havana to California, horsemen are sending their steeds to Suffolk Downs for long 1938 New England racing season which begins May 20 at the East Boston plant and ends Nov. 12 at Narragansett.

The mile track has been covered with a new layer of loam which until now ranked as one of the fastest surfaces in the country. Additional space for box seats has been allotted in the grandstand and clubhouse.

The former barren area around the miniature lake has been resodded to harmonize with floral display in front of the stands.

Heating facilities have been installed in the stands for the convenience of fans in the event of a cold spell occurring.

Five new entries have been received at Secretary Eugene Bury's office for the Plymouth handicap. They are Higher Cloud, Financier, now running at Santa Anita, California; Greenwald, University and Sun Caliente.

Mary Hinch, famous lady owner and trainer, has sent a contingent along to the track.

Oaklawn Park is well represented with strings from the stables of Vic Gallo, J. R. Gregory and Bill Causey.

With the "non eligible" list in the discard, horsemen will not be forced to enter their steeds in "fill" events.

The purse increases will also add to better racing since players of nonseasonable times will be sidetracked.

Tom Thorpe, presiding steward at Suffolk Downs, is due to arrive this week.

Tom is being presented a testimonial dinner by the large host of sports at the Casino Hotel, next Tuesday. The public is invited to the reception which will be attended by various luminaries in the "colt" world.

Tickets may be procured at the hotel or from John P. Carley, general manager of athletics at Boston College.

Of special interest, to race fans who have to be home in time for dinner is the elimination of long post parades and unnecessary delay at the starting gate.

Races will be run promptly on schedule, and the fans will be taking homeward in plenty of time for the other activities.

One week from Saturday the gates of Suffolk will open, and a bigger and better racing season will begin.

Marcum Hurls Against Yanks In Vital Tilt

Today's Game Key to Season, Cronin Believes

was, was not Marcum's idea, or so we are informed. Catcher Moe Berg takes full responsibility for it.

"It's usually fatal to throw the same pitch three times to the same batter," Berg explains. "So when Marcum, ordinarily a good curve ball pitcher, missed two knucklers, I reasoned he'd be looking for another and that previous thought I try to throw him up by calling for the fast ball."

The Sox given their chance of working it off before the home while on the midweek off day, split about 7:50 on the pepetuum. The Yanks had nothing else to do but face things easy and this to the late afternoon announcement that the DiMaggio had been v. against the team.

Tom Thorpe, presiding steward at Suffolk Downs, is due to arrive this week.

Tom is being presented a testimonial dinner by the large host of sports at the Casino Hotel, next Tuesday. The public is invited to the reception which will be attended by various luminaries in the "colt" world.

Tickets may be procured at the hotel or from John P. Carley, general manager of athletics at Boston College.

Of special interest, to race fans who have to be home in time for dinner is the elimination of long post parades and unnecessary delay at the starting gate.

Races will be run promptly on schedule, and the fans will be taking homeward in plenty of time for the other activities.

One week from Saturday the gates of Suffolk will open, and a bigger and better racing season will begin.
